Is the Police Court yesterlay afternoon John Fansler, bartender for George Deinert the saloonist on Market street, was given a fine of $50 and costs. The charge against him was selling liquor to a minor, Thomas Owens, a colored lad only 17 years old. The boy was arreated on the charge of being drunk, and when his case came to trial he told Judge Wadsworth where he got his whisky, and warrants were issued for both Mr. Deiner and his employe. The charge against Mr. Deiner was dismissed, as Fansler sold the boy the whisky, and he was given the fine, which, with the costs, amounted to $63. It was paid, and the next day it rained.

Judge Walker Reid, of blessed memory with the old lawyers of this Judicial District, was very strict on the bench, but not always so in his private life.

It had become the custom of the lawyers traveling the Circuit to indugle in a friendly game of poker after sourt adjourned at night, and Judge Reid frequently Joined in the game.

One night at Brookville, in Bracken county, the Court and the attorneys joined in agame on the evening that they arrived, and the next moraing when Court opened, the Judge, in giving the usual charge to the Grand Jury, addressed himself to the attorneys.

"Gentlemen, you are offleets of the Court, and as such are sworn to uphold the laws and Constitution of the state. You have been playing poker contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided. Each of you will be flued, 810 upon the return of indictments, the bringing of which I have ordered."

you must pay a fine of $30."
He paid the fine as did each of the lawyers, and it broke up the pokee guans

Was insought About in a rew Monaeric is sured, Probably Three Months.

Was inforced in the description of the insource of the lines we element was injected into the already complicated tariff situation Monday by the arrival in the senate of the lilinal age in the treasury and by the ingentious treatment of this arrival by that apostle of silver, Senator Stewart, of Nevada. He was aided in producing this complication by Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and other east senator in the senator of the arrival by that apostle of silver, Senator Stewart, of Nevada. He was aided in producing this complication by Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and other east session, aided in the unconditional repeal of the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman act. Thus again was illustrated the old proverb that polities makes strange bed-fellows. In a word the entire problem of dealing with the entire problem of dealing with the entire problem of dealing with the revenues of the government. This startling change in the legislative programme of the senate was brought about in a very few moments, and with consumate skill. When the article of the senate was brought about in a very few moments, and with consumate skill. When the article is the senate was brought about in a very few moments, and with consumate skill. When the article is not a senator of the senate was brought about in a very few moments, and with consumer a skill. When the article is not a senator of the first emphatically objected to and Senator Corman suggested that the bill he referred at once to the finance committee.

After much discussion the net result was that the seigniorage bill lies upon the about the case of the ca

the conclusion of the meeting hour Tuesday. The bill will then be read a second time, and the question of its disposition will then be before the senate. Unquestionably some administration senator will move to refer the bill to the finance committee. This motion is debatable. That it will be debated at length is certain. Senator Adirch said Monday:

"This is a great question. It should not be referred to a committee, but should be committee.

this seigniorage bill affords immediate revenue of relief."
